

Maloy Ministry Moments

April 2021

Thank you so much for praying for our work in the Lowcountry! This month, we want to highlight recent ways we've seen God at work, & to share specific prayer requests for each campus:

Coastal Carolina University:

Praise: We have 3 new believers this semester & female student leaders are surfacing!

Prayer: For the student leaders, Natalie & Isaac, who are in discipleship relationships with the new believers. Pray for safety for the students as they transition back to in-person meetings/activities.

Charleston Southern University:

Praise: CSU students initiated a strategy to train their Bible study attendees to share the Gospel using a new evangelism tool.

Prayer: We got to meet 4 of the new students attending our student-led Bible studies at a recent women's night. Several are interested in student leadership next year & at least one is considering Smokey Mountain Summer Mission.

The College of Charleston:

Praise: We've been praying for God to raise up student leaders & we have a couple women, Heather & Savannah, who are interested & praying about leading next fall! They are growing exponentially in their walks with the Lord & have a lot of potential to be great leaders.

Prayer: Men that love the Lord. There are a few men on the fringes of our ministry, but we're still unsure where they are spiritually.

The Citadel:

Praise: We have a core group of knobs that have been faithful throughout the year & have grown close; we're excited to challenge a couple of them to step up into leadership for next year!

Prayer: Please pray for a few cadets to really consider going on a summer mission with Cru/Valor. Please also pray for discernment as to who to invite to be a part of our leadership team for next year.

Elsewhere, in the Lowcountry (clockwise, from L): CofC Cru involves the campus in a social justice project, CSU Cru female students gather for ministry training & fellowship, CCU Cru students & staff on a zoom call.
